Homework Policy

The Purpose of Homework

Homework is set for children in order to:

- reinforce and extend school learning
- encourage pupils to work independently, developing confidence and self discipline
- make use of resources outside the school environment
- develop an effective partnership between the school and parents/carers

Progression

The nature and quantity of homework changes as the children progress through the school and parental support is greatly valued. Home activities such as reading are on-going, but other homework may be set once a week and increases as the children move through the school.

In the Foundation Stage, homework takes the form of shared reading and talking. Children are encouraged to borrow books from school to 'read' with an adult at home and a contact book / Tapestry enables parents and school staff to provide feedback on a child's reading experiences. Sound cards and key words may be sent home for children to practise reading and writing. Parents are also invited to record significant events on Tapestry to provide a link with home and a talking point for staff and children

In Key Stage 1, more formal homework is introduced. Children are expected to read at least three times per week, but preferably every night, and spellings are given to be learnt at home. These are tested at school. The children are also given key words to learn and a variety of tasks to complete relating to literacy, mathematics or the topic they are studying in class, ranging from games to play with an adult, making collections, finding information or completing work set by the teacher.

In Key Stage 2 homework provides an opportunity for children to develop the skills of organisation and independent learning. They should begin to develop the habit of devoting periods of time to study on their own. Homework is of an increasingly broad nature and prepares pupils for the transition to Secondary school. It may include literacy tasks, maths challenges, research, science or humanities projects as well as spelling, reading and tables. It is vital that all children read daily for at least 10-20 minutes. They should read either to their parents or carers or read independently. Children in KS2 are expected to work on TT Rockstars every week to increase their times tables knowledge. children may well also be set homework via Google Classrooms.

Supporting Pupils

The school will set homework on a regular basis ensuring that it is manageable and balanced. Feedback will be given as quickly as possible and in a variety of ways including discussion, marking, testing.

Please support your child by: checking their homework, providing a suitable place and appropriate equipment to work. Encourage and praise your child's efforts. The school runs a homework club to support those who need help or have difficulty finding time at home.

Please always email / talk to the teacher about the homework set as this is a valued communication link between home and school.
